PRESENTING A CLASSICAL MUSIC PROGRAM BY

Yuva Sangeetha Lahari

A group of ardent youngsters paying tribute to the glory of Carnatic Music

Sunday, May 16, 2010

3:00 to 5:30 pm

Yuva Sangeetha Lahari (YSL) is a music group dedicated to training talented young carnatic musicians in the advanced aspects of music. It was a project envisioned by Sri Ramachandran Suresh and Sri K.S.Mani, who are performing musicians, dedicated teachers and passionate promoters of young talent. Besides these two musicians, the teachers include vocalists Ashvin Bhogendra and Rajeswari Satish, and violinist Radhika Mani.

YSL dedicates several weekends every month to long practice sessions. In these sessions, the students of vocal music as well as accompanists learn and experience various aspects of concert performance. The mutual interaction lets them share ideas and promotes a healthy competition to excel and improve. Besides the group practice sessions, the youngsters receive regular guidance from their respective teachers. The YSL students have been consistent winners in the competitions organized by Cleveland Thyagaraja Aradhana and CMANA. All of them have performed concerts during the December music season in Chennai.

To be specially noted is the fact that the YSL group works as a family, driven only by passion for our great music.
